

Mr. Jeremy Helmes currently serves as Pastoral Associate for Worship & Sacraments at St. Maximilian Kolbe Parish in the Archdiocese of Cincinnati. After musical training at the University of Cincinnati College-Conservatory of Music, this Eagle Scout earned an M.A. in Sacramental Theology and Liturgy from the University of Dayton while serving as a campus minister and liturgist. He is the past chairman of the archdiocesan Worship Commission, served on its subcommittee for liturgical music, and collaborates with the archdiocesan Worship Office on various projects.

Jeremy is the co-founder of LAUDATE: Forming Youth for Music Ministry, a week-long experience for teen music ministers. He has served in many leadership capacities for the National Association of Pastoral Musicians (NPM), currently serving as Chair of the Board of Directors, and is a regular clinician/presenter for national and regional conferences and events on the liturgy. Jeremy is the author of Three Great Days (Liturgical Press), and his articles have been published in Pastoral Music and Worship. He lives in Cincinnati with wife Karen, and sons Nate and Will.
